COMPANY INTRODUCTION

Based in the East Midlands, Infinite AV provides nationwide coverage through an experienced team of more than a dozen in-house engineers and an extensive network of subcontractors.

We are a well-known within the industry for the supply, installation and maintenance of high end sound, vision, lighting and CCTV products. We have recruited a highly-trained and experienced team who are very passionate about the work that they do, which means that we are able to handle every aspect of your installation from the Specification through to the Installation and eventually Staff Training.

We pride ourselves on working closely with each individual client to ensure that we deliver a personalised service every time - this means working with you at every stage of the Installation process. After your initial contact, we will provide you with a quick, hassle-free and no obligation quote and then we will work with you to make sure that you are kept up-to-date and informed all the way through to the end of your installation. Then, once your Installation has been completed, you will have the opportunity to take advantage of our first rate after sales care, which means that we will be readily available for servicing, maintenance or any queries that you may have 24 Hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

OUR HISTORY

The Company's director, Ben Gammon, is the son of David Gammon who was the founder, designer and inventor of Transcriptor Turntables. In 1971, his Hydraulic Reference Turntable received a British Design Award, which was presented by HRH Princess Margaret. It has subsequently appeared in television programmes, advertisements and film. Such as Kellogg's Cereal, Heartbeat TV Series and A Clockwork Orange film.

Having been influenced by his father's interest, Ben developed his own clear passion for sound and the AV Industry, in which he's now worked in various capacities for over 20 years.
